UK Parliament Week at Our School

This week, our children took part in UK Parliament Week, a nationwide event that helps young people understand how democracy works and why their voices matter. Throughout the week, pupils learned about the role of Parliament, how laws are made, and the importance of engaging respectfully in debate. They explored how MPs represent their communities and discussed the many ways people can influence change in society.

Across the school, classes took part in a variety of activities, including creating their own petitions, holding mock debates, and voting on issues that matter to them. The younger children even built the Houses of Parliament. These sessions helped pupils understand not only the structure of government but also the values of fairness, responsibility, and active citizenship.

To bring their learning to life, we were delighted to end the week with a Q&A session with Justin Madders, MP for Ellesmere Port and Neston. Children prepared thoughtful questions about local issues and the work of an MP.

Justin shared valuable insights and encouraged pupils to stay informed and involved.

The week was a fantastic opportunity for our children to deepen their understanding of democracy and see how their ideas can shape the world around them.
